
ActivTrades Appoints Matteo Paganini As Group Chief Commercial Officer

ActivTrades, a leading global forex and CFD broker regulated in 7 jurisdictions and with clients from over 160 Countries in the World, is pleased to announce the appointment of Matteo Paganini as its new Group Chief Commercial Officer.

An expert in FX, market making and risk management, Matteo has a 20 years' extensive experience working within the CFD industry and a track record of identifying and developing new business opportunities.

"I am pleased to welcome Matteo within our management and leadership team," said ActivTrades CEO Alex Pusco. "His experience, knowledge and talent make him an excellent asset for the whole Group and his contribution will help ActivTrades to further develop and grow while always providing a superior service to its clients."

Before joining ActivTrades, Matteo Paganini served as Regional Revenue Officer for Europe for Admirals and as Managing Director for Italy and Spain at Pepperstone in London, before moving to Cyprus and dealing with Pepperstone's European business and operations.

Earlier in his career, Matteo has been a managing partner of Salex S.p.A, the first Italian FX broker in 2004 and co-founded and managed the Italian division of FXCM in 2009, where he also led the market analysis team of FXCM's DailyFX, acting as Chief Analyst.

At ActivTrades, Matteo Paganini will lead the global strategy and expansion of the Group and will have overall responsibility for revenue growth, strategic direction of sales and marketing, identifying new markets opportunities as well as managing corporate processes and operations, providing disruptive and exceptional services and trading experiences to clients and traders.

With Matteo's appointment ActivTrades will be also focusing on the development of new products, such as the launch of a New Investor Profile Account with zero commissions and zero swaps on CFD on Stocks and ETF, designed for investors and the new generation of traders and focused on improving the user and trading experience of clients, thanks to further developments to the safe, stable, user-friendly and professional ActivTrader proprietary trading platform.
