

Fresenius Medical Care Achieves Top Results in Six Categories in the European Extel Ranking

Fresenius Medical Care (FME) achieves top results in this year's "2024 Developed Europe Executive Team Survey" by the market research company Extel in six categories. The Extel ranking is regarded as one of the most authoritative surveys in the financial sector and evaluates companies and their managers based on feedback from institutional investors and financial analysts.

Helen Giza, CEO at FME is once again recognized as the best CEO in the "Medical Technologies & Services" category. Martin Fischer, CFO at FME, achieved third place in the "Best CFO" category.

Dr. Dominik K. Heger, Head of Investor Relations, Strategic Development & Communications at FME, took 1st place in the "Best IR Professional" category. In addition, the Investor Relations team was also awarded second place in the "Best IR Team" category and also achieved third place in the "Best IR Program" category.

In the area of sustainability, FME was recognized for its environmental, social and governance (ESG) program and took second place in the "Best ESG" category.

The awards highlight the company's positive development and showcase the success of its transformation.

The Extel rankings are based on a survey of nearly 1,800 investment experts from over 820 companies. This year's awards nominated over 1,000 companies and 2,000 individuals from 31 sectors.
